

MoLVET Interim Public Conference

Coleg Cambria - Deeside. Friday 23rd October 2015

For Managers, Curriculum Leaders,
Teachers and Learning Technologists

Recent statistics prove that new media and technologies have a very high level of presence in the life of young people today. Digital devices are not only an integral part of communication and leisure but are and have the potential to become extraordinary learning tools. Learning does not change or adapt to innovation only because we use new tools; mobile learning or more generally the introduction of ICTs into teaching requires a serious overhaul of our approaches and a rethink of our roles as teaching practitioners; this is the main scope of “MoLVET 2.0.20 – Mobile Learning in VET towards 2020”.

The project has been funded with support from the European Commission Erasmus+ programme and regroups 10 organisations from the UK, Italy, Turkey, Spain, France and Sweden.
